4 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IN SUPPORT OF MOTION FOR 5 VIDEOTAPE DEPOSITION AND RELEASE OF MATERIAL WITNESSES

6 STATEMENT OF FACTS

7 The Material Witnesses were detained on February 16, 2008. They 8 were found inside a travel trailer driven by Defendant DIAZ, along
9 with 10 others who were determined to be here illegally. Defendant
10 AYALA was a passenger in the trailer driven by DIAZ.

11 On March 4, 2008, both Defendants were Indicted on three counts
12 of violation of Title 18, U.S.C. § 1324(a)(1)(A)(ii) and (v)(II) -
13 Transportation of Illegal Aliens and Aiding and Abetting.

14 As of the date of this motion, none of these Material Witnesses
15 have been able to find someone who will sign a bond on their behalf.
16 Ongoing efforts are being made to find sureties. As of the date of 17 this Motion, the Witnesses will have been in custody nearly 6 weeks.

18 MR. VARGAS has no prospects of obtaining a surety. In Mexico,
19 he supports his Mother who is ill. He has equivalent to a 6th grade
20 education, and was coming to the United States to work, in order to 21 help support her. Requiring him to stay in custody constitutes a
22 severe economic and emotional hardship for him and his family.

23 MR. VILLANUEVA recently lost his Mother, and is working to 24 support his elderly father in Mexico. He has equivalent to a 9th
25 grade education. Requiring him to stay in custody also creates an 26 economic and emotional hardship for his father, who depends on him.

27 MR. ESTRADA supports 3 children in Mexico, ages 11 months, 4
28 years and 6 years, and has equivalent of a 9th grade education.

1 Keeping him in custody while the case is pending constitutes severe
2 economic and emotional hardship for his children.

3 Besides the economic and emotional hardship, each Material
4 Witnesses' loss of freedom from being incarcerated, while not charged
5 with any crime, constitutes extraordinary circumstances which require
6 granting this Motion to achieve their release.

7 THE TESTIMONY OF THE MATERIAL WITNESSES CAN BE SECURED BY 8 VIDEOTAPE DEPOSITIONS AND THERE IS NO COMPELLING REASON TO KEEP
9 THEM IN CUSTODY.

10 Depositions of material witnesses may be used at trial in 11 criminal cases, so it is only in exceptional circumstances, where the 12 interests of justice will be denied, that a videotape deposition is 13 not appropriate. [See IIRIRA § 219 (admissibility of videotape
14 depositions); see also, United States v. King 552 F.2d 933 (9th Cir.
15 1976) (cert. denied, 430 U.S. 966).] The defendant, who is ordered to 16 be present with his counsel at the videotape depositions, has a full
17 and fair opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses. The videotape
18 provides sufficient indicia of reliability to afford the trier of fact
19 a satisfactory basis for evaluating the truth of a statement. [Dutton
20 v. Evans, 400 U.S. 74,89 (1970).]

21 The burden is on the objecting party to show that the use of the 22 deposition testimony will deny the defendant a fair trial and that the 23 live testimony would somehow be significantly different than that
24 taken at the deposition. [United States v. Humberto Rivera, 859 F.2d
25 1294, 1208 (4th Cir. 1988).]

26 In Torres-Ruiz v. United States, 120 F.3d. 933, (9th Cir.
27 1997), the Ninth Circuit mandated the use of videotape depositions
28 when the Material Witnesses' testimony can be adequately secured by deposition and further detention is not necessary to prevent the

1 failure of justice. (emphasis added; see 18 U.S.C. § 3144) In
2 Torres-Ruiz, a routine alien smuggling case, the witnesses were
3 sole support of their families in Mexico, and their continued
4 incarceration constituted a hardship on them and their families in
5 Mexico, who depended on them for support. The Torres-Ruiz Court
6 clarified that denial of a motion to videotape the witness'
7 testimony is limited to situations in which a "failure of justice"
8 would occur because the deposition would not serve as an adequate
9 substitute for the witness' live testimony.

10 As of the date of this Motion, the Material Witnesses have 11 been in custody almost two months, although not charged with a 12 crime. Continued incarceration constitutes severe economic and 13 emotional hardship for them and their families who depend on them
14 for financial support. It is not necessary to continue to detain
15 them, because no failure of justice would occur by videotaping
16 their testimony. Their testimony can be adequately secured by 17 granting this Motion, and there has been no showing that the 18 deposition testimony would be different from the live testimony.
19 Further, they are subject to the subpoena power of this Court.

20 Therefore, it is requested the Court grant this Motion and 21 order the videotape depositions of the Material Witnesses to occur
22 forthwith. The Material Witnesses also request the Court order
23 their immediate release upon conclusion of the depositions.
